Dear M

I am very pleased to offer you formal admission to the Master of Business Analytics beginning in September. You have been selected from many applicants to your program and I would like to congratulate you for achieving this milestone in your academic career.

Postgraduate students at York University become important researchers and leaders in their field. As a postgraduate student, you will be working with leading faculty members. As the leading interdisciplinary program in your field, you can do things differently at York. My colleagues in the above area of graduate study felt would be a good fit for your chosen program and encourage you to accept your offer.

Any conditions connected to your offer of admission will be found on the following page. You will find details in this package regarding your offer, registering and enrolling in courses and programs. You have received a letter from the above postgraduate program outlining your financial offer package if you are entitled to one. Please review this financial offer carefully and speak directly with the director of your program if you have any questions.

To accept your offer of admission, please contact:

We look forward to having you at York University and by the opportunities that await you.

Sincerely,

Barbara Crow
Dean, Faculty of Postgraduate Studies
